

Deutsch-Isrealische Zusammenarbeit

שיתוף פעולה גרמני-ישראלי

German-Israeli Cooperation

Overview: BMFTR Cooperation Structure

text version of the info graphic on the 'cooperation ' page of www.cogeril.de

Interministerial Cooperation:

- 1.a. BMFTR-MOST: scientific projects (since 1973)
- 1.b. BMFTR-MOEI: industry-led projects, such as '2+2 Projekte ' (since 2000)

1. Minerva:

- 2.a. grants (seit 1963)
- 2.b. projects at the Weizmann Institute (since 1964)

2. German-Israeli Foundation (GIF):

bilateral research projects in a wide range of topics (since 1986)

3. German-Israeli Project Cooperation (DIP):

- 4.a. interdisciplinary bilateral projects (since 1997)
- 4.b. managed by DFG German Research Foundation (seit 2008)

4. Martin Buber Society of Fellows:

funding German and Israeli researchers in the Humanities and Social Sciences (since 2009)

5. Young Scientists Competition BMFTR Special Award:

The German Federal Ministry of Research, Technology and Space (BMFTR) facilitates study visits to Germany for awardees of the Israeli 'Young Scientists & Developers Competition' (since 2001), e.g. participation in the 'International Science Camp' (since 2017).